Hospital elective surgery resumes

Dear Doctor,

I'm pleased to inform you St Vincent's has resumed normal levels of elective surgery.

You may recall the hospital ceased all non-urgent elective surgery on April 2nd. Since then there's been a gradual easing of restrictions and from July 1st the hospital resumed all elective surgery.

Whilst that's good news for your patients, with the increase in COVID cases across New South Wales, if there is a regional outbreak elective surgery restrictions at St Vincent's may need to be re-introduced. I will keep you informed if there are any significant changes at the hospital.

Ready, willing and able - Since the pandemic outbreak the hospital's team of health professionals has geared up to support our public health system.

We greatly increased our staff training and we remain ready, willing and able to support our Far North Coast community and our public health system. Under the COVID-19 Partnership Agreement St Vincent's is ready to offer our services to public patients including surgery and general medical care.

Wellness measures at the hospital - Since the start of the COVID-19 outbreak we introduced a number of additional wellness measures at the hospital including:

- Screening all patients and visitors
- Careful management of PPE
- More frequent cleaning and greater availability of hand sanitisers throughout the campus

- Temporary lockdown of our St Josephs Nursing Home - now re-opened.

Connecting you with our specialists -

Our research informed us that regional GPs would like to hear more from our specialists. So we are planning a range of digital initiatives enabling you to engage with our specialists. More details shortly.

Should you have any questions or concerns about the hospital, please reach out to me directly. My email below.
